We are certified organic wine

The estate is made up of very old vines, some of which are pre-phylloxera. Located on the highest plateau of the appellation (more than 190 m above sea level), our terroir benefits from a windy and especially very sunny area. Our vines dominate the region, both in terms of quality and exposure.

Clear colour with brilliant reflections.

Clear nose of white flowers and small notes of liquorice and spices.

Fresh and supple on the palate, fresh apricots.

Pretty happy finish.

We have been working since 2011 in natural pest control, without pesticides. We have developed a concept based on:

- Companion plants: alfalfa and clovers planted in between rows to amend the vine to natural nitrogen, humus during mowing, and intelligent water management
- Bioindicator plants: each wild plant is a reliable indicator of the environment in which it grows: for example, dandelion indicates a soil where organic matter is sufficient
